CHAPTER 6

USE OF THE DUERS

The DUERS centralized data base is migrating to an updated Relational Data Base Management System. This system will provide remote, on-line access to authorized energy managers. The purpose of this Chapter is to provide information on the resources available to DoD energy managers on the use of the DUERS .

A. DUERS USER'S GUIDE

The DUERS User's Guide is a printed Manual available to assist users in accessing and retrieving information maintained in the DUERS data base. It contains helpful information on system operations, including how to initiate and terminate a terminal session, system query capabilities, and query preparation . Terminal hints, examples of queries, and how to get help are also included. User's guides can be obtained from:

        7th Communications Group/GNE
            ATTN: UERS
        Room 3D1053
        The Pentagon
        Washington, DC 20330-6345

B. ACCESS AND PASSWORDS TO THE DUERS

Users must obtain passwords to gain access to the DUERS database through the 7th Communications Group. The DUERS is an unclassified system and can be used by Defense energy managers. To request a password, submit your full name, military rank or civilian grade, security clearance, full mailing address, and phone number (both Defense Switched Network (DSN) and commercial) to the ·7th Communications Group at the above address. DO NOT forward your Social Security Number.
